Relaxation of rules relating to the running of buses.

Mr. C. Srinivasa Rao, Indian Planting Constituency, Chikmagalur.

(a) The rules require a particular bus or car to run on specified lines and if the specified bus or car gets out of order or requires overhauling, another bus or car cannot be run unless a permit is taken on payment of a minimum fee of Rs. 50 and re-registration fee of Rs. 8 if the vehicle to be so used had been registred long before January 1924. Thus hardship is experienced by the proprietors of motor services to the prejudice of the travelling public and the rules may be relaxed.

(b) As the rules now stand, there is no provision for running special motor services as occasions require since the rules require hat the routes, etc., required for such special services should be furnished in advance. This prevents the owner of the vehicle from accommodating the travelling public on the spur of the movement according to the exigencies of the service. This difficulty should be obviated by relaxing the restrictions of specifying the routes, etc., as in the case of ordinary services. Pleasure trips, journey to the places of pilgrimage and such like instances are in point.
